

UWRL Faculty Member Ron Sims Highlighted For Covid-19 Research | Utah Water Research Laboratory

06/23/2020

June 23, 2020 — UWRL faculty member Ron Sims was recently highlighted by the USU Office of Research for his work with fellow USU researcher Keith Roper.

USU's Office of Research Podcast Series "Instead"

Sims and Roper are part of a coordinated effort with the University of Utah, BYU, and USU to identify COVID-19 traces in wastewater. This study was able to accurately predict the recent Cache Valley outbreak in Hyrum a week before testing confirmed the cases.

The podcast can be found on the USU Office of Research's Blog or on Spotify.